

G. O. P. LEADERS TO SELECT 1936 MEETING PLACE

National Committee Begins Job of Naming Convention City

HEAR LATEST ON GOV. TALMADGE

Cleveland, Chicago, Kansas City in Race for Honors

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—In a capital growing more "campaign conscious" daily, the Republican national committee gathered today to select the 1936 convention city, and to hear, with cheery smiles, the latest news about Eugene Talmadge, Georgia's Democratic governor.

Talmadge, who is President Roosevelt's most vehement intra-party enemy, now that Senator Long is gone, tentatively tossed his hat into the presidential ring last night.

Won't Harm G. O. P. He said he probably would run for the Democratic nomination to challenge the federal government's "communist trend"—if Georgia's state committee decides to hold a presidential primary. "Republican national committee men took the view that this development certainly would do their cause no harm."

Talmadge said President Roosevelt would "lose many southern states next year if they continue this new deal policy"—a prediction shared by several G. O. P. committeemen from Dixie.

Three cities, Cleveland, Chicago and Kansas City, were engaged in a sharp contest for the 1936 Republican convention. Each was prepared to donate around $150,000 if selected. A drive to get the convention for Pittsburgh folded up at the last minute.

The question of possible presidential nominees was taboo, but it was linked with the contest over the convention site. The argument was heard that the city chosen should not be associated in the public mind with any particular presidential possibility.

Trying to Force Primary Talmadge's "if" statement about his candidacy recalled that certain members of the Georgia Democratic executive committee who look askance at Talmadge's criticism of President Roosevelt, are trying to force a state primary. The other choice open to the committee is to hold a state convention to name delegates to the national convention.

Talmadge said he and John H. Kirby of Houston, Texas, had decided on the last week in January as the date for an Atlanta convention of "southern Jeffersonian Democrats" to draw up a program for combating the new deal.

Making plain that he would engage in no third party movement, he referred to new Democratic leadership. He said he hoped the "Democrats will do the courageous thing and not re-nominate Roosevelt."

Motorist Is Fined, Loses His License R. W. Salisbury, of 636 Second st., was fined $100 and costs and had his driving license suspended for six months after pleading guilty before Mayor Norman Phillips Sunday to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Unable to pay his fine, Salisbury was taken to the county jail today by Sheriff Frank Ballantine.

He was arrested early Sunday morning on the Salem-Lisbon road by local state highway patrolmen.

Norman Casto of Belpre Phillips was arrested on a charge of reckless driving after his automobile spun off the sidewalk a short distance.

Carl Partlow of Salem, arrested by police on a charge of disorderly conduct, was fined $15 and costs.

SALEM PLANTS REPORT THEFTS

Burglars Enter Foundry And Tool Company Buildings

Thefts at two industrial plants in the city were reported to police today.

Burglars, sometime between Saturday night and this morning, smashed a window at the Salem Tool Co., 767 South Ellsworth ave., tripped a latch and stole tools valued at approximately $100.

Police said Harry Weikert, shop foreman, told them the tools which were taken included two pairs of one-inch micrometers, four pairs of two-inch micrometers, two pairs of three-inch micrometers and one pair of four-inch micrometers.

Nothing else in the shop was reported disturbed, police reported. The officers did not link the weekend burglary with another one, reported today, but which occurred several days ago.

George Woerther, of 1171 Pershing st., told police that someone gained entrance to the Pittsburgh Foundry and Machine Co., 460 Wilson st., of which he is superintendent, and stole materials valued at over $400.

Woerther told police the theft was not discovered until today. The loot, obtained from the pattern storage room of the plant, included: four patterns of aluminum valued at $300, one 60 pound sack of aluminum, one coil of copper cable, length 300 feet and 50 pounds of lead and other metals, which Mr. Woerther said, would be salable.

SUPREME COURT ARGUES ON AAA

Suit, Brought by Louisiana Company, May Prove Constitutionality of Act

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The newest phase of the administration's farm legislation came before the supreme court today for argument as to its constitutionality. It was the AAA act, as amended last August in an effort to bulwark it against court attacks. The original farm measure was debated last week in the suit brought by the Hoosac Mills Corp., of Massachusetts.

The litigation set for argument this afternoon was started by eight Louisiana rice millers. They sought an injunction against paying the processing taxes the AAA levies on them to pay farmers for adjusting production. Lower courts dismissed their petition.

A ruling in the two AAA controversies is likely in January. A joint opinion is possible. After the supreme court held NRA invalid last May, congress amended the original farm act to ratify certain acts by the secretary of agriculture. This was to meet any objections that the farm act constituted an invalid delegation of authority.

Akron Honor Pupil Dies In Accident

AKRON, Dec. 16.—William Sanders, 19, honor student and varsity golfer at East High school, was killed early today in a head-on collision in which four other persons were injured. Police said a manslaughter charge would be placed against Frank Rusyniak, 42, driver of the car which demolished the machine in which Sanders was riding.

Perry Smith, 73, city workhouse guard, another weekend fatality, succumbed to injuries sustained in a collision, Dec. 10. The building housed 160 persons, some of whom were still missing. The firemen also were hampered by difficulty in obtaining water, the reports said.

G-MEN CALLED IN SEARCH FOR MISSING HEIR

Caleb J. Milne, 4th, Believed Kidnaped For Ransom

HUNT SPURRED BY TAILOR'S STORY

'Ransom' Note Tells Family to Keep In Touch With Grandfather

(By United Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Spurred on by a tailor's story and the growing belief of relatives that Caleb J. Milne, 4th, had been kidnaped for ransom, officials today intensified their search for the mysteriously missing 24-year-old scion of one of Philadelphia's first families.

The youth's grandfather, Caleb J. Milne, Jr., retired textile magnate, reluctantly agreed with the kidnap theory. He had previously scoffed at abduction reports.

G-M Join Hunt While federal G-men joined New York state's "Scotland Yard" in the search for the handsome young actor J. Schwartz, whose tailor shop is across the street from the modest Murray Hill apartment of Caleb and his brother, Frederic, told how a strange man accosted them last Monday night.

It was to Frederic that a "ransom" note indicating Caleb was kidnaped when he disappeared last Saturday night, was addressed. "Your brother is in Philadelphia, we got him out in the country," the letter said, "but he will be returned living if you will follow the letter we will send you."

"Available cash must come from New York. Keep in touch with your grandfather and phone. The letters will be signed Zwittler."

Wrapped Around Yule Card The note was written in newspaper type pasted on brown wrapping paper. It was wrapped around a Christmas card of the ten-cent store type showing a man and a woman in a sleigh with a winter background and bore the legend, "Greetings to you."

In Woodstock, N. Y., Miss Anita Smith, aunt of the missing boy, said she was sure because of her nephew's habits that he had been kidnaped. She said he left for New York several weeks ago after living for a while with his mother, Mrs. Frederica Milne in a modest Woodstock house.

Filling Station Robbery Nets $18

LISBON, Dec. 16.—A bandit robbed G. L. Ward, owner of Queens Gardens on the Lincoln highway, west of here, Saturday afternoon of $18 in addition to 12 gallons of gasoline and a few pieces of candy. The bandit pulled the telephone receiver line from the wall, pressed a revolver against Ward's body and commanded him to recline on the floor until he left the filling station.

Ward arose as soon as the bandit left the store and obtained a description of the car, but the license plates were covered with mud. When Ward came here he informed Mayor G. Cecil Rauch that the bandit had been in his place of business Saturday morning, when he purchased five gallons of gasoline. Ward also said that his customer said he was "from Salineville."

Spain's Sheriff George Hayes was informed of the robbery an hour afterwards, the police call being referred to the county jail. Hayes, in the meantime, was investigating an automobile wreck on the Lincoln highway south of here.

WEEKEND MOTOR MISHAPS KILL 8

Inclement Weather Keeps Many Motorists Indoors Sunday

(By Associated Press) Traffic accidents in Ohio brought death to eight persons yesterday. Unfavorable weather conditions in most parts of the state held traffic to a minimum.

Miss Marion G. Rodig, 21, of Cleveland, was killed when the auto in which she and five other young persons were riding rammed into a parked truck in Dover, Cuyahoga county. Only one of the other five was hurt seriously. Police Sgt. Clarence Grube said the trailer was surrounded with lanterns, flares and flags.

Martin Subin, 41, Cleveland, was injured fatally by an auto while crossing a street near his home. A hit-skip driver's auto struck and killed Warren Bishop, 84, near his home in New Lyme, 20 miles south of Ashtabula.

Mrs. Raymond Davis, 33, of Uhrichsville, was killed and her husband seriously injured when a truck in which they were riding crashed into a building at a curve. Carl E. Richard, Dennison, and his wife, also riding in the truck, were injured.

Ten-year-old Margaret McCurden died in Youngstown from injuries received Saturday night when she was hit by an auto while crossing a street.

Harry J. Johnson, 40, relief worker, died in a Mansfield hospital today of injuries received when he walked into the side of an automobile last night.

Young Farmer Saves Wife and One Child; Others Die In Fire

CARNEGIE, Okla., Dec. 16.—George Bailey, young farmer who rushed four times into his burning dwelling to save members of his family while six others died in flames, cried today: "It seems a fellow could have done more. But after the ceiling fell, I just couldn't get the rest."

"I don't know what we'll do," Bailey's wife said, holding close her only surviving child. Three of her children, two nephews, and Bailey's half-brother, were burned to death. Seven others escaped the fire, but were injured by a defective fuse.

"The whole family picked cotton during the autumn months and saved $65," Mrs. Bailey said. "This money was burned up. It was all we had. Everything is gone."

BIG STEEL FIRM WILL ENLARGE

Jones & Laughlin Announces Expansion Program

(By Associated Press) PITTSBURGH, Dec. 16.—The Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, one of the larger independents, embarked today upon a $40,000,000 expansion campaign which business leaders hailed as further strengthening Pittsburgh's position as the nation's steel capital.

The greater part of the money will be used for a $25,000,000 strip and sheet mill, the largest of its kind to be built in Pittsburgh.

New Financing Plan "The 85-year-old concern disclosed one of the most important financing plans since 1929 in a letter to stockholders."

The management asked approval of a $100,000,000 mortgage, of which $60,000,000 would be held in reserve. The stockholders will hold a special meeting February 14.

Actual letting of contracts cannot be started before that time. Business men looked upon the giant program as an added sign of better times in the industry, coming as it did shortly after a $140,000,000 program undertaken by the United States Steel Corporation.

Financial circles regarded the J. & L. move as one of the first major applications of new money to the production and distribution of manufactured goods in recent years.

Announce Program Jones and Laughlin heralded its long-expected entry in strip and sheet production by saying:

"The decision to engage in this branch of manufacture was arrived at after a comprehensive study made over an extended period of all the major steel products, and with the conclusion strip and sheets best meet the need of the corporation's requirements for increased consumer goods."

Besides the $25,000,000 mill, the financing plan calls for retirement of $3,248,000—outstanding from a bond issue of 1909.

Public, Parochial School Students Await Vacations

The respective grade classes of the city schools will hold special programs the latter part of the week, arranged by the teachers.

Supt. of Schools E. S. Kerr announced today that the high school auditorium will be re-decorated while the holiday recess is under way. The Myers brothers of Steubenville will start painting on Monday morning, Dec. 23.

The painters then will continue until the work is finished, Supt. Kerr said.

RELIEF STILL CHIEF PROBLEM

May Interrupt Ohio Legislature's Holiday Recess

(By Associated Press) COLUMBUS, Dec. 16.—Relief appeared today to be the problem which will interrupt the Ohio legislature's holiday recess.

Both houses went home last week with the problem still unresolved and with one Lucas county representative predicting hunger riots if the legislature failed to provide more relief funds.

Rep. Louis N. Laderman, Toledo Democrat, said the state might have to call out the national guard.

Paul P. Yoder, Democratic state floor leader, immediately promised "if there is any reason why the senate should be here, then we will be here in toto."

The house refused to concur Friday night in senate amendments to an emergency relief bill to distribute $1,500,000 to the counties.

Speaker J. Freer Bittinger announced the body would return if the senate would do likewise. The house left pending a motion to reconsider the vote on concurrence.

Some representatives fought the bill on the grounds that it would provide outright grants and the money would be available to any county. Grants to counties which have not voted Carey poor relief bonds, they contended, would be unfair to counties which have.

Bittinger said he wanted a $5,000,000 appropriation for relief needs until June 1, with possibly another $3,000,000 after then. Counties would be required to match dollar for dollar, he said. Work toward a permanent relief program is expected in January. Yoder said that Senators Harold D. Nichols (D., Clermont) and James Metzger (D., Cuyahoga) are drafting a measure for a six-month program.

Police Car Given Bullet-Proof Glass

A new bullet-proof windshield was installed in the city's police cruiser Saturday. The glass was ordered by Safety Director George Baillie after city council transferred $148 to the police department's motor equipment and supply fund for the purchase.

The new windshield is provided with a gun opening. The bullet-proof glass was recommended for the car shortly after bandits staged the $26,000 payroll robbery in front of the postoffice here on Nov. 2.

VICTIM MOTHER OF SALEM MAN

Mrs. Alice Huddleston Struck at Eighteenth St., Switch

Struck by an eastbound Stark Electric car at the Eighteenth st. switch, Sebring, Mrs. Alice Huddleston, 63, of 336 West Penn ave., Sebring, died at 8:40 p. m. Sunday. Her death was almost instantaneous.

Had Just Alighted Mrs. Huddleston was struck by the car on which a few moments before she had been a passenger. After alighting, she started across the tracks in front of the car, apparently expecting it to wait for a moment.

The interurban got under way and she was thrown beneath the car before she had an opportunity to jump from its path.

Although Walter Belding of Canton, the motorman, asserts he did not see the woman, he was unable to make a complete statement today. Officials of the trolley company said Belding was too ill, as a result of the shock of the accident, to discuss it.

Mrs. Huddleston was born in Lisbon, daughter of the late Joseph and Melissa Albert. She had lived in Sebring for 24 years.

She was a member of the Methodist church in Sebring; the Pythian Sisters; Daughters of America; Daughters of Union Veterans; and the Disabled American Veterans auxiliary.

SELASSIE PREDICAMENT

Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia will need all the accumulated wisdom of a long line of princes to find his way out of the diplomatic predicament which threatens to ensnare him. His opponents and his friends have put the emperor into a hole.

It seems probable he could have peace by agreeing to the terms of a peace treaty arranged by foreign powers. Unfortunately, he has made it known that he doesn't want peace on the terms outlined; that's the hole into which he has been pushed.

Sooner or later, the emperor will have to make peace with Italy on the terms which Great Britain and France arrange, or he will find himself and his unhappy kingdom fighting without even the moral support of the major powers within the League of Nations. It may be a long time before he sees his predicament, but eventually it will be plain. To have peace, he must be willing to make peace—on the other fellow's terms.

Possibly it is plain already, for the emperor seems to have taken the necessary preliminary steps to get the small members of the League of Nations lined up with him against an unfair settlement of Ethiopia's dispute with Italy. Success in that direction is uncertain, however. When it comes to a showdown, Ethiopia may find fewer friends in the League of Nations than it has been claiming.

The league is primarily an European organization. It is therefore, a hundred times more concerned over the problem of Italy than it is over the problem of Ethiopia. If it could release itself from the dynamite of sanctions and at the same time give Italy the room for expansion which is the Italian excuse for attempting to invade unfriendly African territory, a little incidental injustice to Ethiopia would not seem to matter greatly. Either Emperor Haile Selassie must talk turkey when the time comes or he won't eat any.

WHO BELIEVES IT?

There will be another week, then there will be Christmas. A week after that it will be New Year's day and lo and behold on Jan. 3 congress will be in session again. Then there will be something happening all the time.

For approximately six months there has been a deliberate attempt to implant the conviction that the 1936 congressional session would be short and to the point. Politicians have been talking about adjournment in May, in plenty of time to let congressmen go back home and get acquainted before the primaries.

The fact of the matter is that there aren't many bills to be considered. The most important problem in sight is neutrality. Besides it, there will be the veterans' bonus, a pure food and drug bill of some kind or other, a ship subsidy bill and a bill to make the CCC a permanent organization.

But who believes congress is going to fall in with the plans of leaders who say everything is going to be made shipshape by spring? Nothing has happened to remove the following beliefs from the congressional mind:

- 1—That it is necessary every year to pass a lot of new laws.
- 2—That it is necessary every year to conduct a lot of inquiries.
- 3—That it is necessary every year and particularly in campaign years to make a lot of speeches, or at least as many as possible, so the folks back home can listen.

Perhaps there really will be a short session of congress in 1936. Having been fooled so many times before, cautious Americans will assume the session will last until the latter part of the summer, as usual. Then if congress adjourns earlier, they can be pleasantly surprised, a rare occurrence in politics these days.

THE STARS SAY

For Tuesday, December 17

The lunar aspects of this day emphasize the prospect of high-tension activities in the direction of launching new and bold projects or attacking the development of untold and adventurous undertakings with determination, aggressiveness and ingenuity. These qualities will be necessary to combat definite opposition or obstacles of a tenacious and stubborn nature.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of a year of high-pressure activities in the direction of launching new and important projects, with the necessity for determination, resourcefulness and keen sagacity in turning tenacious obstacles and opposition into productive and profitable channels. This may call for complete change of plans, with travel, postponements and the support of friendly interests of an unexpected nature.

A child born on this day should be active, resourceful, with fine initiative and originality, also equipped with courage, determination and constructive ability to overcome obstacles.

Notable nativity: Lyman Abbott, preacher.

It is always encouraging to note the advance of civilization. Arabs in Palestine are now planning a general strike.—Buffalo Courier-Express.

O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 16—Diary: Betimes and wrote a preface for Bob Davis's book on dogs. And came an epistolary bouquet from Bernard Baruch, for whom I have such high regard. Also an paken cask of brandy pressed from desert dates which Harry Richmond sent from Palm Springs.

This day Baron Wrangel told of a painter I greatly admire living but two floors away, yet I have never seen him nor have I ever seen Julia Marlowe and E. H. Sothern also neighboring tenants. Typing until Baird Leonard phoned in a frenzy over the loss of her dachshund along the street.

To dinner at Lindy's, stimulated as usual by the Broadway buzz-fuzz, the preening and cock-a-doodle-do. Then early to my couch with a feeling I have attained the lonely years, missing so greatly the companionship of Will Hogg, Irvin Cobb and my Boston. Read until 4 a. m. Walter Duranty's "I Write as I Please."

Francis Lederer, embryo Hollywood Romeo, is out, so his press agent trumpets, to become the worst dressed actor in Hollywood. He has not bought a suit in three years, doesn't expect to for several years more and never patronizes a presser. He likes to go necktieless and is usually three weeks in arrears on a hair cut. Another gesture in his bizarre life is carrying a fountain pen in his hip pocket.

Lederer, slouchily surtouted, may become a No. 1 Boy in expressing feminine appeal, but there are many precedents, including history, against him. The professional heart-breakers from Lord Byron to Clark Gable had a steady eye for sartorial splendor. Physical deformity is rarely a deterrent. Byron had a club-foot and the more modern Maurice Chevalier had an underslung lip and legs that bowed. But they knew their togs.

Personal nomination for the greatest radio showman of his time—Major Edward Bowes.

The best dressed woman question is also one greatly mooted. One week it's the highly publicized Kentucky belle Mrs. Harrison Williams, and the next the equally exploited and snow-haired Elsie De Wolfe. The distinction depends largely on which dress-making establishment has the most astute press agent. If I were pinning medals on the fashionables of the New York scene I would feel torn among such exhibits as Mrs. Robert Rubin, Peggy Hoyt, Mrs. Byron Foy, Pifi Widener Wichfield and Mrs. Orson Munn.

Sign over a West 54th street hat check room: "We think you pay enough for your hat and coat when you buy them."

That up-the-holler philosopher Bob Burns, revealed by the miracle of the radio, has been making steady progress. His post-office stop is Van Buren, Ark., and when they get all the straw out of his hair and his ears pinned back, the studios believe he may "go to town." At the moment he is broadly and hilariously funny. He is reputed to have cracked the serenity of a Tory group of after dinner thumb-twiddlers at the Union League recently with his broadcast of an uncle inquiring of an isolated Ozarkian: "It must be hard, away off here, to get the necessities of life?" The reply: "Yessir, it is and half the time when you get it it ain't fit to drink." The same uncle married and after a couple of weeks got to wondering where his wife spent her nights. So he went home and there she was!

Bagatelles: Mayor La Guardia won't have a phone on his office desk... Michael Arlen's latest: White shirts with pink collars and cuffs... H. L. Mencken and George Jean Nathan still say "Hello" as they scurry by... John Masefield's English pit bull dog is afraid of dolls... Senator Carter Glass weighs only 100 pounds... George Gershwin has joined the gray-around-the-temple brigade... Prince Louis Ferdinand has been showing Frazier Hunt all the dime museums and soda water hell holes in Berlin... Charlie Journal is at the silk ropes of the Casino.

On Fifth avenue today a self-conscious fellow walking a bit stiffly in front of a somewhat bewildered and corn-fed lady. And I thought of Kin Hubbard's Em Moots, who said: "I've got a cousin in the city but I allus hate t'go any place with him 'cause he tries to act like he wuz with me."

(Issue of Dec. 16, 1935)

America is face to face with a famine in gasoline and a shortage of the fuel from which illuminating gas is manufactured. The result will be an increased price which the owners of business and pleasure motors must bear and also a raise in the price of gas in cities and communities where compensation for the products is not already fixed by law.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

NOWADAYS WE hear a great deal about the dangers of faulty circulation of the blood. But these conversations are like Mark Twain's comment on the weather, "Everybody talks about it, but no one seems to do anything about it."

Certain disturbances of the circulation are unavoidable but in the majority of cases they can be prevented. Unfortunately, most victims of poor circulation do not consult the doctor until permanent damage has been done. This is too bad because many of the chronic ailments of adult life are due to neglect of disturbances in the circulation.

To understand how important the circulation is, it is necessary to know something about the functions of the blood vessels. The blood carries nourishment to every part of the body. Also it extracts oxygen from the lungs and waste products from the tissues.

The blood helps maintain the temperature of the body. It carries the secretions from the various glands and, in their turn, they regulate body activity. The blood takes up the poisons developed by disease and may actually carry the bacteria or germs of disease.

The blood is propelled through the blood vessels by the contractions of the heart. It is sent throughout the body and returns to the heart. This organ is ever at work and, if improperly cared for, may be damaged.

Regulate Life
You can see how vitally essential it is to care for the organs of circulation. It is clearly important to regulate one's life according to certain health fundamentals.

Suppose we consider some of these: First, it is advisable never to overeat. Certain foods must be avoided if certain physical conditions are present. Eating hours should be at a definite time each day and followed by rest periods.

All the health authorities warn against the rush of modern life. To insure good circulation it is necessary to avoid the nervous strain of hurry. Adequate hours of rest and relaxation are essential to the maintenance of good health.

Regular visits to the doctor will keep you informed of the exact physical state of your heart, blood vessels and circulation. The doctor will advise you as to diet, exercise and the mode of living best suited for your physical make-up. Follow his instructions carefully.

Do not resort to self-medication or self-treatment. Faulty treatment is just as bad as neglect.

Answers to Health Queries

F. P. Q.—Is blood in the sputum always a symptom of tuberculosis? There is no cough, but for the past two years, great congestion in the chest and throat, frequent colds and sore throat, with a weak feeling or pain in the chest. What treatment would you advise under such circumstances?

A.—Not necessarily, but it would be well to have the chest thoroughly examined and x-rayed. Your doctor will advise you accordingly. In the meantime, make every effort to improve your general health. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send addressed stamped envelopes with their questions. All inquiries should be addressed to him in care of this newspaper.

$70,000 and Stack
Of Love Letters
Revealed by Court

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—A court hunt for the $900,000 fortune of Mrs. Elizabeth Palmer Smith, 81, today turned up $70,000 and a stack of love letters from her business manager, Roy A. Wathier, 37.

Wathier told Clarence P. Wagner, probate court assistant, the letters grew out of a "mother and son relation." He professed ignorance of what became of the bulk of her fortune, and denied he ever proposed marriage to the aged heiress.

Attorney for Mrs. Smith's conservator read a half dozen of the letters, full of such phrases as "let us drift into the land of happiness."

Mrs. Smith, a widow, is a niece of the late Potter Palmer, hotel magnate. Her second husband died in 1915. Wathier and Mrs. Wathier were divorced a year ago. Mrs. Wathier is the daughter of B. A. Ralston, wholesale grocer, Wathier later married again.

Mrs. Smith was adjudged incompetent, and the conservator brought the hearing to discover whether her assets had been misused.

Liverpool Schools
Financially Better

EAST LIVERPOOL, Dec. 16.—East Liverpool's public school system will be "out of the red by the end of the year," Clerk-Treasurer Emmett J. Gaston told the board of education when he announced he has asked a $35,000 advance payment of taxes to meet a $20,000 payroll for teachers and janitors and pay other bills Dec. 20.

He also reported $77,000 received during the year in retail sales and liquid fuel taxes, which enabled the board to meet payrolls. Otherwise, only one month's salary would have been available for employees, he said.

"WIFE IN CUSTODY" by BEATRICE LUBITZ

CHAPTER XIV

By the end of May, Irene's apartment on Park Avenue, though far from complete in its furnishings, was already charming as she and Dirk sat at breakfast, in the breakfast nook that was just a little too quaint, she looked about with gratification.

The apartment's beginning to be quite livable, don't you think, Dirk darling?"

"Charming, dear. Frankly, I had doubts about the place. I don't particularly care for these box-like, irregular rooms, long halls, fashioned trappings like the ones we saw on Gramercy Park. I must admit that you've done some exhaustive research on subjects that she loved and had managed with her thoroughness to assemble a credible replica of an English gentleman's home, Anastasia, when I saw her daughter's apartment the first time, thought it very nice and didn't hesitate to say when Dirk was away, Irene didn't help thinking so, too, but her habit acquired during her upbringing of Dirk—of appearing to share all his tastes—still had a hold on her.

Irene poured herself coffee from a silver urn. "Reconciled to living on Park Avenue, darling?"

"Grinned. According to fiction and the movies, I guess we're the only respectable family on the Avenue."

"Nonsense. Mama's respectable. It makes two families."

"We're simply slaying the tradition."

"Oh, dear, mamas having trouble with her maid again?" She looked at her voice as her trim maid came in with a packet of mail and laid it on the table. "There's not a live cat alive can work for her. She's the world's worst tyrant."

"Oh, I say, I like her. It seems like you're always ragging her."

"Nonsense. I adore her. I always think of her as our very own commander-in-chief. Why, if I miss her once a day I begin to feel for her actually."

"Dirk drained his cup. 'I've got to go now. There's a social work conference at ten at the Russell Sage Foundation.'

"Dirk, do you really like social workers?"

"They're not so bad. No more than any other group of people, although some of the in-se females are a little trying."

"She got to her feet. 'If you had decent job, you wouldn't have to go off at nine like a clerk,' she pouted."

"He patted her cheek. 'Irene, why, you haven't looked at mail,' he suggested, to distract her."

"He shrugged. 'Oh, just congratulations and still more congratulations. Oh, I sent the Kayles a letter thanking them for tea service.'

"Fine. It's a pretty weighty tea, what?"

"Why, it's gorgeous, Dirk. Must cost close to a thousand."

"Top pretty gorgeous. Typical of the Kayles. Always the grand ones."

"Don't be so snobbish, Dirk. Oh, it's a letter from Madame herself. I wonder what she wants." She opened the heavy cream envelope and her fruit knife.

"Oh, how nice!" She was really excited. "We're invited to a week-end at their place in Tuxedo. Oh, oh, Dirk. Lolita and His ship are here on a visit and says she wants us to meet them."

"But I've met His Lordship," Dirk eyed dryly. "I assure you he's great."

"Oh, but we're going."

"You won't enjoy it, Irene. It's such vulgar people."

"Oh, Dirk, we must go!"

"I shouldn't like to, pet. Old life is still dangling his damn job. Madame is the world's worst bore."

She's the sort of good but misguided person who spits at one in her enthusiasm. And while I hate to be uncharitable and intolerant, I must confess, darling, that His Lordship gives me a pain precisely where I sit."

"Dirk! And you call the Kayles vulgar!"

"Just trying to be light-handed, darling. I hope you don't insist on going."

"Dirk, but I do."

"Very well, darling, if you're really set on going, write and accept. Only please don't let's get involved with them in return invitations. But I'm sure you won't like them."

"I think to be exposed to them once is enough to cure one. Come, kiss me. I really must fly now. Good-bye!"

"Yes, dear, a little later. Good-bye, my dearest dear. Oh, and thanks for being so sweet about the Kayles."

Irene hadn't expected the Terhunes to make any difficulties for her. She considered them harmless, ineffectual people, whose only value was their social connections. She dismissed them from her mind. The Rileys were harder to dispose of, but even this she achieved. Since her marriage she had so encompassed herself in grandeur and formality that, though she lived only four houses away from Anastasia, it might have been miles. She managed it so that there was no possibility of her sisters running in on her unless they phoned first or were invited. Mama, of course, couldn't be held down by either grandeur or formality, but Irene determined to see less and less of her.

Her main worry, of course, was the salon. She yearned to give it up. From a source of pride, it became a sore spot with her that she was tied down to a business even though the new friends she was making as Dirk's wife said they envied her—actually seemed to envy her, in fact—having something vital to do. Irene's lip curled when the women told her this. It was getting to be quite the thing for society women to go into business; dress shops run by members of the Junior League were becoming as common as fleas. Interior decorating was considered very elite, even the stage and, in an apologetic way, the movies. But as Irene grimly told Walter, it's one thing to go in gracefully for a career and quite another matter to have to hold one's job in order to meet expenses!

Of course, so far as Dirk was concerned, he had wanted them to live simply and inexpensively within his income. He had an additional small income from his investments and she would have been able to give up the salon. They had thrashed the matter all out. But Irene had no desire to live simply and so she decided to keep on at the salon and pay her share of the maintenance of the elaborate menage on Park ave.

Secretly Irene was amazed that Dirk had permitted it. She had thought he'd be too proud to let his wife work, but in this she had been mistaken. Her whole conception of aristocrats was shattered by Dirk's queer behavior. Sometimes she hated him for being so different from her ideals. For one, he seemed to have no pride such as she felt aristocrats should have. He talked to elevator men as politely, as cordially, in fact, as he did to

Part Time Liquor Stores Proposed By Control Board

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Dec. 16.—Ohio's department of liquor control may abandon a major phase of its program to control sale of liquor, liquor agencies in private stores, and substitute part time liquor stores where necessary.

The liquor board, with no advance warning, asked Director James W. Miller yesterday to open no new agencies and to renew no expiring contracts in cities.

For rural communities now served by agencies, it instructed Miller to investigate the possibility of establishing part-time state stores.

A resolution embodying the instructions declared "the legislature never intended to have agencies located in cities * * * liquor should not be sold at places of business patronized by children, * * * and agencies are not conducive to the best interests of state monopoly in Ohio."

Operators of agencies, mostly druggists, carry liquor stocks along with their regular merchandise. They receive six per cent on their gross sales. The department has established agencies in rural districts not served by state stores and in urban districts where it was felt that state stores did not provide adequate service.

The resolution, officials said, would affect 96 agencies in urban districts. The remaining 100 are in rural districts.

Letters Written by Indigents Find Way Back for Sanction

LISBON, Dec. 16.—Letters, written by former relief clients and forwarded to offices at Columbus, including that of Governor Davey, soon find their way back to this county.

Several such letters were forwarded by the Columbus offices to the county commissioners here. In each instance the original letter is accompanied by a carbon copy of a reply sent the writer.

Soon after the relief program was inaugurated in Columbiana county, many of these on relief forwarded letters of complaint to President Roosevelt. In due time, however, these letters were returned to the relief officials here, without comment.

Claims Wellsville Schools Need Aid

WELLSVILLE, Dec. 16.—Additions to the faculty of the Wellsville schools, to be effective when the new Ohio foundation law becomes operative Jan. 1, have been recommended by E. L. Bowsher, of Columbus, state director of education, Supt. S. E. Daw has advised the board of education.

Mr. Daw's report of the recommendations, including appointment of an assistant music supervisor, preferably a woman, to be in charge of the grade schools, and also employment of two additional teachers, was submitted after he conferred with the state director.

The director advised the Wellsville schools are undermanned, and district boards should prepare to meet changed conditions when the school aid legislation becomes operative.

Theater Attractions

Paramount's musical romance "Coronado" will be shown at the State Tuesday and Wednesday on a double feature bill. Eddy Duchin and his orchestra provide the musical background for the film and this is the popular dance band's first engagement in motion pictures.

The cast includes Johnny Downs, Betty Burgess, Leon Errol, Andy Devine, Alice White and Jack Haley. The action takes place at the Hotel Coronado, a resort in California. The music is good and there are several popular songs sung by Johnny Downs and Betty Burgess.

"Personal Maid's Secret" is the co-feature and Ruth Donnelly has the title role in this film that includes Margaret Lindsay, Warren Hull and Anita Louise in it's cast.

Events in the life of one of America's most colorful characters form the theme of "Annie Oakley," Barbara Stanwyck's new picture, showing at the State theater tonight. With Miss Stanwyck in this story of the Ohio girl who was the greatest woman rifle shot of her day, are Melvyn Douglas, Preston Foster, Monro Olsen, Pert Kelton and Andy Clyde.

The story of "Annie Oakley" is of the young and beautiful country girl who joined the Buffalo Bill Wild West show to earn a living. Melvyn Douglas, playing Jeff, Buffalo Bill's talent scout for his show, discovers Miss Oakley, played by Miss Stanwyck, and persuades her to join the troupe.

She falls in love with Preston Foster, her opponent at a rifle match, but their romance is hampered by the jealousy of Douglas, who is also in love with Annie. At her first match she permits Foster to beat her, allowing her romantic rapture to run away with her.

In the months that follow they are bitter professional rivals, in love with each other. Foster sustains an injury to his eye but, unwilling to admit defeat, meets Miss Stanwyck in a shooting contest, but his sight is so impaired that he misses the dime she holds between her fingers and hits her arm. He is fired from the show because it is believed he allowed his professional jealousy to get the better of him.

Annie, broken hearted, accompanies the show on a European tour, performing the stunt it is reputed she performed, that of shooting a cigarette from the mouth of the Crown Prince Wilhelm.

Returning to America, she, with the aid of Sitting Bull, trace Foster to a shooting gallery, and the two are reunited.

The Grand offers "Skybound" and "To Beat the Band" on a double feature bill tonight.

Hugh Herbert and Helen Broderick star in "To Beat the Band," a musical comedy. Others in the film are Fred Keating, Roger Pryor, Eric Blore and Phyllis Brooks.

"Skybound" is a fast-moving picture about the air patrol, with Eddie Nugent, Lloyd Hughes, Grant Withers and Lona Andre in the cast.

Today's Pattern

SCHOOL OR PARTYING Pattern 2492

Whether she's in the fourth grade or the eighth, this little in-between age miss knows the sort of frocks that rates high at school—or parties. And doesn't that perky little bow right under her chin give her frock a crisply tailored air? The over-the-shoulder yoke that fits so smoothly, has the puff of sleeves and the piquancy of bodice gathers, to set it off, while a flat pleat in front, and an inverted one 'round back is all she needs for hurdlings fences, or winning the fifty-yard dash. Take her along when you select the material—for per chance she'd rather have jersey or printed challis for her school frock—a figured silk or satin-finish broadcloth if it's for after-school socials, little parties, or "Sunday best".

Pattern 2492 is available in sizes 6, 8, 10, 12, and 14. Size 10 takes 2½ yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Debutantes In New York Eat Heartily Now

BY MARY ELIZABETH PLUMMER Associated Press Staff Writer NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—There's an unusual thing about this season's crop of Manhattan debutantes. They're hungry, and they eat!

They eat praline ice cream with chocolate sauce, attack their soup eagerly and do right by sweetbreads. One of their favorite breakfast dishes is good old substantial corned beef hash.

Authority for this is Charles, maitre d'hotel at a debutante rendezvous. He was asked "how about it?" After some of the season's buds were seen consuming food at a great rate.

Debs, he replied, no longer nibble lettuce leaves. They like ham and eggs, and even eat the candies that were just an ornament on the table a few years ago.

He also said, while on the subject of deb's and dining: That the average woman would gain 50 pounds in one winter if she ate debutante party food without dancing until dawn.

Pretty Graduate Student At O. S. U. Reveals Data On Study of Genetics

Findings, She Says, Will Be Valuable In Helping To Determine Paternity of Children at Birth

(By Associated Press) COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 16.—A pretty young graduate student in genetics at Ohio State University made public today results of a study which she said would be valuable in helping determine the paternity of children at birth.

Miss Harriet Hyman of Bluefield, W. Va., said that her work on hereditary blood groups or types of new-born infants showed that these groups are present in children six months before birth.

A Negative Proof Her discovery, she said, carries further a study by Dr. Landsteiner, Rockefeller Institute research geneticist. Its value she described as one of "negative proof."

"It can show who is not the father of a child," she said, "but not who is. More than one man may have the blood group found in a child, but a man lacking the blood group could not be the father."

Dr. Landsteiner first recognized hereditary characteristics of human blood cells in 1909. For purposes of transfusions, medicine broadly classifies blood in three groups, A, B, and C. In 1927 Dr. Landsteiner discovered blood groups he classified as "M and N." Up to now, Miss Hyman said, workers have recognized the existence of the groups only after the age of five months.

The groups are present when the embryo is three months old, she said, and remain unchanged after birth.

ATTACK PLANNED ON PACT CRITICS

British Preparing Brief To Uphold Italo-Ethiopian Plan

(By United Press) A counter-attack on critics of the Anglo-French plan for ending the Italo-Ethiopian war is in preparation by the British government.

In receipt of a crescendo of protests against what sharpshooters of the plan contend is a formula for dismembering the kingdom of Haile Selassie, Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, informed sources said today, is collecting material for presentation to the house of commons.

British Cabinet Meets

The British cabinet in token of the seriousness with which Britain has received the storm of criticism at Geneva and in various European capitals evoked by publication of the Paris scheme for ending the war, met in an emergency session.

News of a distinctly different flavor came meanwhile from the southern front, the area in which Premier Mussolini would garner many thousands of square miles of territory if the Franco-British plan were accepted without reservation—that it will not be regarded as a foregone conclusion.

There, where Gen. Rudolfo Graziani a few weeks ago was pushing persistently northward in a strategic move to establish an Italian corridor between northern and South Ethiopia, the Fascist army conceded it had taken the defensive.

From Dolo, the Associated Press correspondent dispatched via Courier to Mogadiscio, Italian Somaliland, a report that Italy's weary southern forces were braced for an attack expected momentarily from a mass of 40,000 Ethiopian warriors under Ras Desta Dementu.

This would constitute the first major Ethiopian offensive. The Ethiopian army consists of three main columns, driving forward on a front 30 miles from Dolo on the frontier of Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland. The Italians, however, planned a drive of their own if the Ethiopians did not act soon.

Raps Henry Ford The Italian commander on the southern front attributed to Henry Ford, the American automobile manufacturer, "private sanctions" which, he said, has held up his northward drive. Ford, he said, failed to deliver 800 caterpillar tractors which had been contracted and paid for.

An official communique issued at Rome said Italian airplanes bombarded an Ethiopian force near Neghelli, on the southern front. It added, "there is nothing to report on the Eritrean (northern) front. There has been only some action of patrols along the Takkaze river."

In a secret consistory, where he created 20 new cardinals, Pope Pius purposely avoided discussion of the pending peace proposals because, he said, any observation he might make "would not be well understood, or would be deliberately misconstructed" in many places. His holiness did, however, "pray

In a study of identical twins, she confirmed Dr. Landsteiner's theory that the M and N groups "are inherited as a single pair of allelomorphous genes." Dr. Landsteiner, however, found five exceptions to his rules. Miss Hyman said she found none.

An allelomorphous gene, according to the Mendelian theory, is a pure unit character transmitted from differing "pure" parents to their "hybrid" children and exhibited in varying proportions in the children.

Rules Are Listed Dr. Landsteiner's rules are: 1—Agglutination or substances which stimulate the agglutination of blood cell M or N can not appear in the blood of a child unless present in the blood of one or both parents.

2—An M parent can not give rise to an N child, and an N parent can not give rise to an M child.

Miss Hyman, graduate assistant in the genetics department, works with Dr. Lawrence H. Snyder, professor of zoology. He said hospital workers are inquiring regarding her work with a view to using it in identification of infants and in cases of questioned paternity.

Working toward her Ph. D., Miss Hyman came to Ohio State eight years ago. Capable at literary as well as scientific work, she won first prize last year in a play writing contest sponsored by the Hill players, a Jewish organization.

Safety In Home Emphasized In Red Cross Drive

You would not deliberately injure your child but carelessness can cripple as permanently as deliberate intent. Are you guilty or not guilty of negligence which may cause a home accident? You won't know until you have inspected your home the Red Cross way. Ask your chapter for a home inspection blank.

God fervently for peace with justice, the truth and with charity." In London, political and diplomatic sources anticipated the prime minister would make sensational disclosures when the commons debates Britain's part in the Franco-British peace plan. Parliament itself was in a state of excited suspense.

Significant was the fact that the recent parliamentary elections had been expected to settle the issue of confidence in Baldwin's policies.

Rejection Seen

An exchange telegraph dispatch from Dessay, Ethiopia, Emperor Haile Selassie's field headquarters, quoted the emperor as saying his government believed the League of Nations council would reject the Anglo-French peace plan.

The king of kings further was quoted as reiterating that the terms "would attack Ethiopian sovereignty and dismember Ethiopian territory in favor of the state (Italy) condemned as an aggressor."

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

IT'S QUITE a job getting the house ready for the holidays, isn't it? But just the same, it is a mighty pleasant task.

We know some folks who don't enjoy the holiday season one bit unless they can seat the guests in a room that boasts something new and very grand, such as a fine Persian rug, a new living room suite or some expensive silver. Well, it is all very lovely to have such things, but all this isn't Christmas!

The right kind of house pride is satisfaction with one's surroundings, and making these surroundings as nice as possible, commensurate with one's position in life. After all, if one has real friends, these friends come to see their friends, not the house she lives in. Better, far better, a warm hospitality in simple surroundings, than a cold, perfunctory greeting in a magnificent salon. But we have wandered away somewhat from the purpose of this little talk, so we'll hurry back to the main topic of the day as soon as possible, which is that of getting the house right and ready for the holiday festivities.

Kitchen First First of all, let's see that everything in the kitchen is working in good order. If there is anything wrong with the stove, have it seen to at once. If there are any utensils to be replaced, what better time is there than now, when the kitchen must be hitting on all six if the holiday feasts are to be successful?

If you have been flirting with the idea of getting some extra gadget for the ice box, go ahead and get it now so that there'll be a goodly supply of ice cubes when needed. There's a grand new ice-cube crusher just out that is just what is needed, also trays that release ice-cubes in a jiffy.

Now let's go over the house and see that the lights are in good order. If you haven't done so recently,

Production of all primary grades of paper, including newsprint and paperboards, for the first eight months of 1935 was approximately 13 percent larger than for the similar period of 1934. Indications point to further gains during the final months of this year, and total production will probably exceed that for 1934 by about 15 percent.
According to reports to the American Paper & Pulp Association, preliminary figures for the industry showed the paper industry operating at about 58 percent of capacity, as against 64.8 percent for the similar month of 1934. Since operations of 82 percent of capacity are generally regarded as representing peak activity, the industry as a whole has materially improved its position and, on the basis of volume, operations are now at a relatively satisfactory rate. Earnings for the first half of the coming year are likely to be better than for the initial 6 months of 1935.
Holdings in the paper group should be of limited proportions and concentrated principally in the kraft, paperboard and container divisions. Companies such as Container Corporation (Class "A"), Scott Paper and Union Bag & Paper appear to warrant consideration.

EMPIRE PLANT TO BE EXPANDED

$300,000 Program Planned; Ads Cheer To Weekend News

(By Associated Press)
Except for the hardy folk who ventured out in cold, damp winds to journey to basketball games, everybody cooperated Saturday night and Sunday to keep the news down in Ohio.

Yet a cheery note came out of Mansfield. There the Empire Sheet & Tintplate Co. announced a $300,000 bid of expansion to take care of growing demand for automobile gasoline tanks and tin cans. President C. H. Henkel reported operations already near a peak and his workers drawing down a $250,000 payroll in December.

There was strife in Washington Court House. Supt. Noah L. Carr of the Fayette county home charged county commissioners sought to remove him from office because of a "personal grudge." The commissioners' order, effective Dec. 20, said Carr failed to account for $432 allegedly obtained from an inmate.

Up in Findlay a suit for $10,000 damages for injuries allegedly suffered in a fall through a wooden sidewalk platform brought a reply from City Solicitor Clifford Glathart that the plaintiff, Claud M. Nichols, "didn't use ordinary prudence."

A Xenia burglar in George H. Smith's cigar store was stymied, George, doing the routine before closing shop, locked the door to the back room. That's where the burglar was, though George didn't know it. The burglar, somewhat miffed no doubt, broke out finally through a rear window and went his nefarious way—minus George's money.

Then late Saturday night an unhappy Columbus storeowner reported troubles that had nothing to do with crime. Charles Baughman and his pet bull snake a strapping reptile wandered in. The store-owner's trade dropped to mid-depression levels.
Baughman and pet wandered out. When police caught up, the snake was coiled contentedly around Baughman's arm. Baughman refused to surrender him to the law and the law was not quite ready to arrest him.
A long handled shovel from a nearby firehouse finally put the snake in the past tense and Baughman in jail to await arraignment on a drunkenness charge.

Bullet Crashes Into Alliance Police Car
ALLIANCE, Dec. 16.—A stray bullet which penetrated the windshield of the police car he was driving, H. C. Shillingburg as he was enroute to Canton with a prisoner.

Shillingburg was traveling westward about two miles beyond Harrisburg when a bullet rattled against the windshield directly in front of him. A hole was broken in the glass but the bullet did not go through.

FLORENCE, Ore.—Dr. G. F. Guldager and James Baker, weary of killing ducks near here with shotguns, switched to the long bow. Baker brought down three mallards with bow and arrow.

Sneezing Bill During Winter Takes Joy Away

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—The nation's winter sneezing bill was set today at $100,000,000—no figure to sneeze at.

It will be a hard blow for Santa Claus but the Christmas sock must be deprived of that amount for common colds until spring declared Dr. Lloyd Arnold, of the University of Illinois college of medicine.

Undesirable Effects
Doctor Arnold listed these other undesirable effects of colds during a single winter:
"Eighty thousand more deaths between October and April * * * the majority * * * associated with common colds and their complications."
"Two million wage earners in industry, stores and offices * * * sick for at least eight days due to common colds and the sinus infections, sore throat, influenza, and pneumonia that follow * * * or begin as colds."
"Children losing time at school."
To cut down the cold bill, Doctor Arnold advised:
"Keep fit and healthy. Avoid excess of all kinds, and keep in good physical and mental condition. Overeating, physical and mental exhaustion are as hazardous as living in a 'hot house' plant existence."
"Infants and children are more susceptible to colds than adults. Avoid close contact with them if you have a head cold."

Quaker Cagers Will Make First Home Appearance Tomorrow

Three Games Offered Cage Fans As Lisbon Invades Salem Floor

Along With Varsity Contest, Althouse Motors Will Play Lisbon Hanna Oils and Reserve Teams Will Clash

In their second engagement of the season and their first home appearance, the Salem High school Quakers will take the hardwoods at the high school gymnasium tomorrow night for a Columbian county tussle with Coach Phil Bickle's Lisbon High cagers.

Along with the varsity contest, two other games are offered cage fans. Joe Kelley's Althouse Motors is scheduled to face the Lisbon Hanna Oil five at 6:30 p. m. while the Salem and county seat reserve teams will meet at 7:30 p. m.

Seek Second Win
Coach Bickle's lads will be seeking their second win of the current campaign when they invade the Quaker's floor tomorrow night. The Bicklemen have so far this season lost to Dalton, Louisville and Wellsville while they defeated New Waterford in their initial contest.

The county seat team this year is formed around its one veteran, Clyde Vanaman, who was the Lisbon gridiron team's ace performer during the fall. Vanaman, a guard, has been outstanding in games so far this season and the county seat lads pin all their hopes for victory upon him.

Other lads, who were members of last year's Lisbon reserve team, are being used on Bickle's 1935-36 varsity. These cagers are: Ikert, Rodu, Simpkins; White; Korn and Prasco. Ikert holds down the center berth, Rodu, Simpkins, White and Korn are forwards and Prasco is a guard. A member of Alliance High school's reserve team last year, Brooks, has shown some promise of developing into a reliable performer for the county seat team.

Doesn't Expect Much
Coach Bickle is not anticipating any exceptional record for his team this season but expects to build a crack outfit for next year from the lads who will gain experience in coming games.

Coach Herb Brown's Salem cagers will be on exhibition before the city's court fans for the first time tomorrow night and can without a doubt be considered the favorites over their county rival.

In their opening victory over Boardman Friday night, the Quakers were far from a number one hardwood aggregation. However, the court experience the Red and Black quintet gained in the inaugural contest should make an improved outfit that will be able to register a win over Lisbon without a great deal of trouble.

Also the fact that they are playing on their own floor, where they have been practicing every night since football season closed, gives the Quakers an additional edge over the county seat lads.

Inaccuracy on close shots and a tendency to fumble the ball were the Quakers' weak points in the Boardman tilt. These faults, which may be attributed to the first game of the season and a strange floor, should be somewhat improved upon when they play tomorrow.

Coach Brown will probably start Max Lutsch, his tallest player, at center, Kenneth Shears and Delmar Schaffer at forwards and Eddie Pukalski and Don Slagle at guards.

Falls Team Wins
The Falls team won the match, making the exceptionally fine score of 3,112. Two of Sebring's bowlers, Bill Brown and Briggs, recorded three-game totals of over 600, while Pete Shaw of the Falls team also scored a three-game series above the 600 mark.

Jim Armstrong turned in the high three-game score in The News-Grate match with a 573, while Ted Detwiler hammered out a 212 for the high individual game score. Armstrong, Detwiler and DeRholes were the only bowlers in this match to roll games over 200.

Buddy Meyer Wins A. L. Batting Race

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Charles Seaton (Buddy) Meyer, the Washington Senators' second baseman, who talked himself out of winning in the lead-off position and took up golf to sharpen his eye, officially became the American League's 1935 batting champion today.

The official averages, just released, show that the little Senator veteran beat out Joe Vossik of Cleveland by one point, 349 to 348, with Jimmy Fox, then of the Athletics, but now the property of the Boston Red Sox, only two points farther back.

Meyer's championship mark was the lowest in 27 years or since 1908 when Ty Cobb won the honors with .324, but it was the Senator star's tops by a huge margin for an 11-year major league career. It also won him the league's $500 award for the leading individual hitting mark. His best previous average was .313, achieved while he was with the Boston Red Sox.

DETROIT LIONS WIN PRO TITLE
Down New York Giants 26-7 In Championship Grid Battle

(By Associated Press)
DETROIT, Dec. 16.—Detroit's Lions today ruled as king of the professional football jungles after grinding the New York Giants, defending title holders, into the mud of the University of Detroit stadium Sunday afternoon, 26 to 7.

A snow storm and a sudden field was not enough to halt the march of the Lions as they unleashed a devastating ground attack.

Score Early
Within a few plays after the opening kickoff the Lions reeled off their first touchdown, as Ace Gutowsky raced through a gaping hole in the Giants' forward wall and scored without a hand being laid on him. Presnell's tee awarded the extra point from placement.

Dutch Clark made the second Detroit touchdown when with the ball on New York's 42-yard line he sliced through tackle and shook himself into the open. Once in the clear he reversed his field, and sprinted across the goal line.

The Giants scored in the third quarter when Danowski faded back from the Detroit 42-yard line and rifled a pass to Ken Strong, who made a spectacular one-handed catch near the sideline and out-ran the Detroit tacklers.

Block Point
The Lions scored again in the fourth period after a Giant punt was blocked. A series of smashes took the ball to the 3-yard line and Ernie Cadel swept wide around the Giants' right end to score. Clark added the extra point.

With the clock ticking off the final seconds Buddy Parker intercepted a pass by Harry Newman on the New York 45-yard line and galloped to the nine yard line. On the third play he crashed through center for the final score.

Abolish Comps
ST. LOUIS—Passes to Municipal Athletic association events have been abolished, except for players, officials and "working" newsmen.

The Central Council of the association recently adopted a committee resolution calling for the new policy. Superintendent of Recreation Frank Sullivan, who headed the committee, said more than 700 passes were collected at a soccer final last winter.

Vote Athletes Pay

Vote of 11 of 13 members of the Southeastern Conference of which Dr. John J. Tigert (above) president of Florida University, is head, to allow athletic scholarships, may be solution to country-wide problem of subsidizing deserving college athletes who maintain high scholastic standings.

PRESBYTERIAN CAGERS WIN IN CLASS C LEAGUE

St. Paul, Columbia and McKinley Teams are Victorious

Playing two overtime periods to break a 16-16 deadlock, the Presbyterian quintet defeated the Baptist cagers 18-16 at the Memorial building Saturday afternoon as the Class C league inaugurated its first round of play.

Trailing at the end of the third quarter by two points, the Presbyterians evened the score at the close of the game with a fourth-quarter rally and then, after one scoreless overtime period, connected for the field goal that won the game.

Other Games
In other Class C contests the Columbians, defending champions of the loop, had an easy time registering a 24-16 victory over the Wesleyan quintet while the Emmanuel cagers ran rampant over the Methodist team to chalk up a 26-11 win.

The St. Paul, Columbia and McKinley grade school teams marked up victories during play in the "Mickey McGuire" league Saturday morning.

With Janovic turning in the outstanding performance, the St. Paul cagers trimmed the Fourth St. quintet 19-6. Drakulich starred as Columbia downed Prospect 23-11, and Ritchie was the leading player with the McKinley team when it defeated the Reilly cagers 23-3.

Joe Louis Is Selected Outstanding Athlete Of 1935 by Experts

Brown Bomber Tops Individual Performers In Fifth Annual A. P. Poll; Lawson Little Is Second Choice

(Note: This is the first of a series on the results of the fifth annual Associated Press poll on the year's leading individuals, teams and happenings in sports.)

By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—By a margin of votes as convincing as any conquest with the fists, Joe Louis stands acclaimed today by the nation's sports experts as the outstanding athlete of 1935, amateur or professional.

The 21-year-old negro heavyweight, who brought the million-dollar "gate" back to pugilism with his knockout punch, tops the individual masculine performers in the fifth annual Associated Press poll.

He is the first prizefighter in the poll's relatively brief history to take the main honors. Previous winners were Pepper Martin, Gene Sarazen, Carl Hubbell and Dizzy Dean.

Unmentioned a year ago, Louis won a three to one victory over his principal rival, William Lawson Little, Jr., twice king of the amateur golfers and runner-up in the poll for the second straight year.

The 1934 count was 268 points for Dizzy Dean and 113 for the golfing ace. Today's tally shows that Louis received 182 points to Little's 129.

Not A Champion
That Louis is not a champion and will not even get a crack at the heavyweight title of James J. Braddock until next September makes his rating as the "athlete of the year" all the more remarkable.

Most sports editors and writers contributing their views emphasized their high rating of Louis was due to his tremendous influence on boxing gate receipts as well as on his sensational knockout record.

Several rated him as the "uncrowned king" of the heavyweights.

GOLFERS TRY TO OVERTAKE SMITH
Johnny Milutin, Youngstown, Second In Miami Open

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Dec. 16.—The man's size job of overtaking lanky Horton Smith, who blazed through the first 36 holes in 139, three under par, confronted 62 professional golfers today in the finals of the $10,000 Miami Biltmore Open.

With them went 11 amateurs, paced by red-haired, freckled Henry Russell of Coral Gables, who played the first two rounds in 148.

Luring the money players was first money of $2,500. The amateurs sought the huge Henry L. Doherty trophy.

Sensation
Blond 27-year-old Smith—who returned to top flight tournament play, recently after taking things easy for five years since the meteoric campaign that netted him 13 major titles and $30,000—was easily the sensation.

Dropping one long putt after another, he went around the course yesterday in 70, one under par, by virtue of four birdies.

Sharing attention with Smith as the third day's play began, were John Milutin of Youngstown, Ohio, second at 140, Bruce Woodcock, N. J., Al Nelson of Detroit, tied for third place at 141.

Johnny Revolta, P. G. A. champion, had 146.

Wellsville Cage Team Trims Lisbon
WELLSVILLE, Dec. 16.—With Connell, a guard, setting the pace with 11 field goals and one from the foul line, Wellsville High school's basketball team defeated Lisbon High, 32 to 19, here Saturday night.

Donald Korn was the star for Lisbon, accounting for nine of his team's points.

Wellsville led 13-0 at the first quarter, 20-10 at the half, and 22-15 at the conclusion of the third stanza.

The Wellsville reserves beat Lisbon, 22-12.

NEW CARDINALS NAMED BY POPE

Pontiff Avoids Discussion of War, Fearing Misunderstanding

(By Associated Press)
VATICAN CITY, Dec. 16.—Pope Pius purposely avoided discussion of pending Italo-Ethiopian peace proposals today in a secret consistory where he created 20 new cardinals.

The pontiff said any observation he might make "would not be well understood, or would be deliberately misconstrued" in many places.

Prays for Peace
His holiness did, however, "pray God fervently for peace with justice, with truth, and with charity."

The consistory, during which the 20 new princes of the church were elected, was saddened by the death of Cardinal Lega, 75, bishop of Frascati, an hour and a half before the conclave.

"We do not wish to enumerate those conflicts which give worry not only to Europe and Africa, but all the world, because in so many places there is danger our word either would not be well understood or would be deliberately misconstrued," the pontiff said in his address.

Only 22 of the 48 cardinals were present as the pope, escorted by his booted noble guards, walked briskly to the consistory hall and mounted his scarlet-draped throne unaided.

His holiness filled the only vacant bishopric in the United States that at Helena, Mont., by appointing Joseph P. Gilmore, chancellor of that diocese, to succeed Ralph L. Hayes, who was recently named rector of the American College in Rome.

Ratify Appointments
At the same time, he had the College of Cardinals ratify his previous appointments of the 20 new cardinals.

The consistory lasted an hour, the pope entering and the doors closing at 9:45 a. m. (3:45 a. m. in Salem) and the conclave ending at 10:45 a. m.

The death of Cardinal Lega and the election of 20 new cardinals brought the total in the college to 68—37 Italians and 31 from other nations, two less than the 70 permitted by the Holy See regulations.

STEEL MAKERS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Ingot Output Drops, But Other Factors Lend Cheery Note

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Dec. 16.—Although ingot output dropped 2 1/2 points to 24 1/2 per cent last week, steelmakers were optimistic today over other factors in the industry, reported the magazine Steel.

Despite the decline, some leading finishing mills actually increased schedules, said the magazine. Pig iron production showed no slump, shipments continuing at 75 per cent over the comparable period in November.

Sheet mills are operating at 65 to 75 per cent, strip mills at 60 to 65, highest this year, and tin plate manufacture has advanced five points to 80 per cent, Steel said.

"Some recession as the inventory and holiday season approaches is considered inevitable. No weakness, however, is apparent in the underlying market situation, and from present indications the bull will be of short duration. Many finishing mills plan to continue at present levels right up to Christmas. With few exceptions mills have good backlogs for January shipment."

Production of automobiles hit the highest point of any week since October, when new models were displayed. The total last week was 68,500, about 5,000 units more than the manufacturers produced in the preceding week.

Railroad and structural steel buying show evidence of expanding, said the magazine. Scrap prices continued upward, moving contrary to the seasonal trend. The scrap composite compiled by the magazine was up 13 cents to $13.29.

Operations in the Chicago district declined four points to 59 per cent; Pittsburgh one to 42; eastern Pennsylvania 2 1/2 to 37; New England 11 to 82; Youngstown was up two to 62; Cleveland two to 84, and other districts were unchanged. The iron and steel price composite was up two cents to $33.32.

SEATTLE—A collection of 200 Korean classics, written in Chinese characters by Korean scholars from the 15th century to the present day, was presented to the University of Washington library by Ralph Corey, former student.
